Welcome to

At a 1 hour drive from Málaga Airport or from Marbella, and a 30 minute drive from Ronda, Yunquera is outside of the touristy circle.

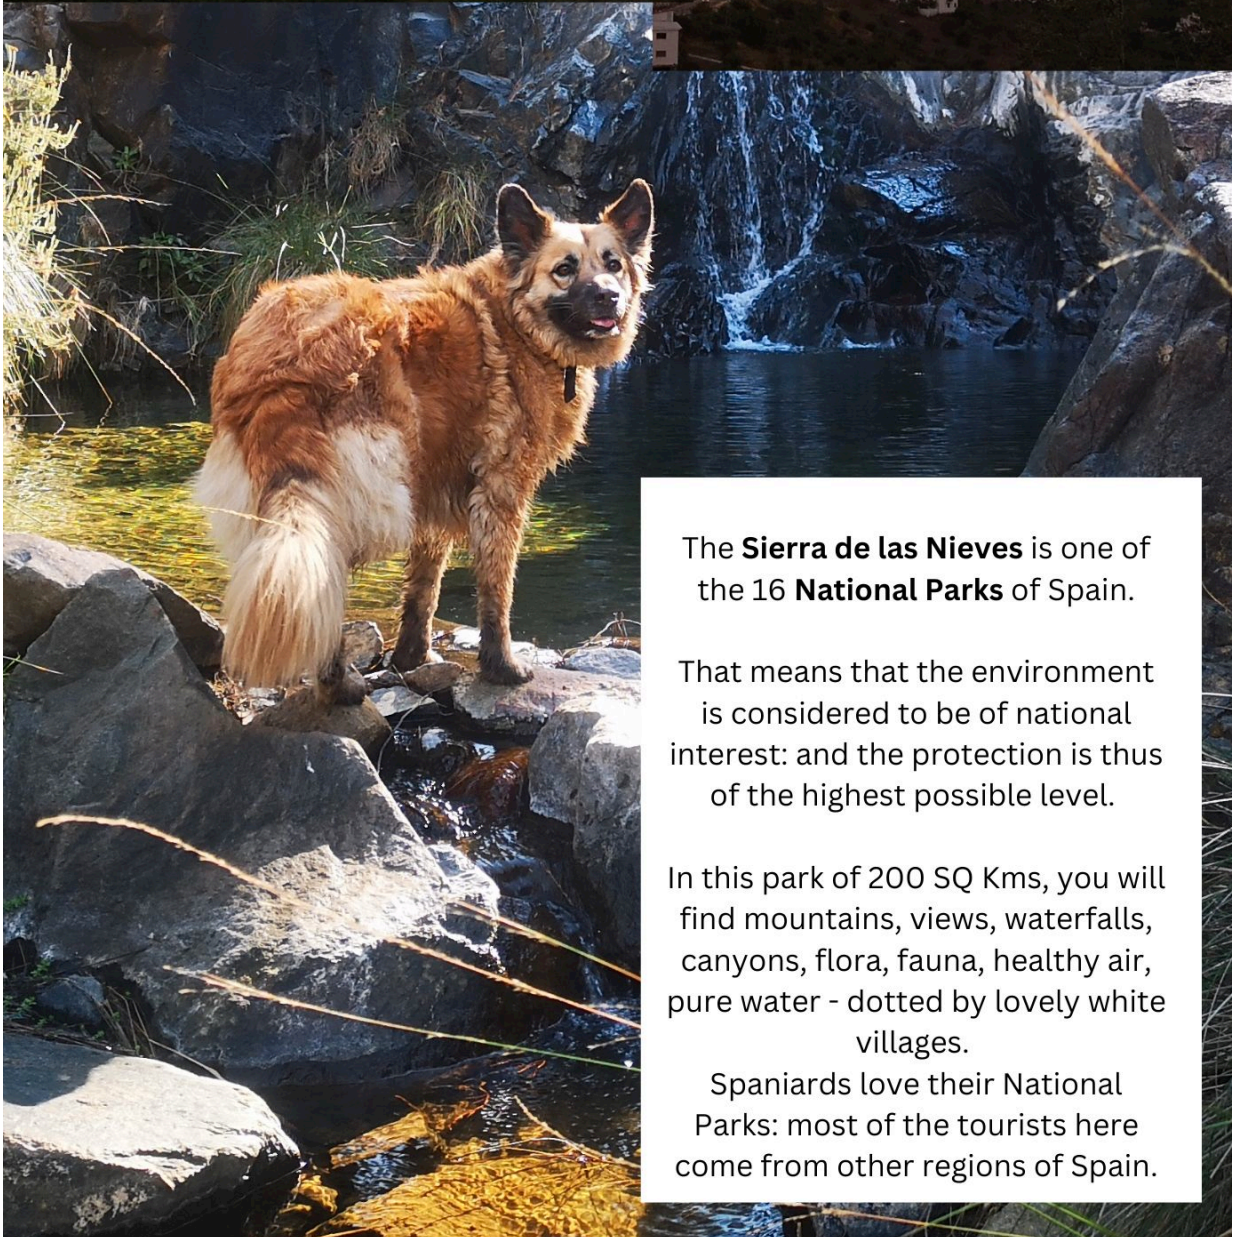

That means that you will not easily be addressed in English or German here, ... this is the real Andalusia. With siestas, lower prices, cockerels and everything.

This white Andalusian village is located at 600 meters above sea level, because it grew out of a medieval fortress on the road from Málaga to Ronda and Seville, an itinerary that was used by the Romans and Arabs alike.

Today it has close to 4000 inhabitants. In a culture that loves living outside, this means a multitude of bars, cafeterias, restaurants and little stores.

Sierra de las Nieves

The Sierra de las Nieves is one of the 16 National Parks of Spain.

That means that the environment is considered to be of national interest: and the protection is thus of the highest possible level.

In this park of 200 SQ Kms, you will find mountains, views, waterfalls, canyons, flora, fauna, healthy air, pure water - dotted by lovely white villages.

Spaniards love their National Parks: most of the tourists here come from other regions of Spain.
